Tshombe Still Hostage of Egypt's Nasser

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

CAIRO (AP) — Premier Moise Tshombe of the Congo complained today he was being treated as a prisoner and watched constantly by 30 Egyptian intelligence agents. He fired off letters of protest to all members attending the summit conference of nonaligned nations.

Tshombe was barred from the conference and was placed under three days' house arrest on his arrival there. The Congo then blocked the United Arab Republic and Algerian embassies in Leopoldville.

U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser sent word that Tshombe would be held until the blockades in Leopoldville are lifted. Tshombe was allowed a few visitors by Egyptian police and troops guarding the Aruba Palace where Tshombe is being held on the outskirts of Cairo.

Diplomatic sources in Leopoldville said Tshombe telephoned his government to allow the Egyptian and Algerian diplomats to leave their embassies. Leopoldville reports said, however, that a soldier stationed at the Algerian Embassy insisted his orders were unchanged.

Nasser and President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria led the fight to keep Tshombe from the conference. They have accused him of being a stooge for the West, opposed his attempted secession of Katanga, and blamed him for the killing of Patrice Lumumba, leftist and first premier of the Congo.

The conference voted unanimously to bar Tshombe and so far no one has arisen publicly to denounce his detention, an act without precedent in modern times.

An embassy spokesman in Cairo said Tshombe is anxious to leave because "he has many things to do in Leopoldville." But there was no confirmation from sources in Cairo that Tshombe had ordered the blockade lifted on the two embassies in Leopoldville. In fact, a Congolese Embassy official told reporters:

Check With SS in Event of a Death

If a worker in your family dies, some member of the family should inquire at the social security office to see if survivors' benefits are payable. Otis A. Blackwood, social security district manager in Texarkana advises.

Death in the family, especially where there are young children, can mean the shattering of dreams and hopes for the children's future. Social security benefits can mean the difference between the shattered dreams and the security of a continuing income and a happy home life.

According to Mr. Blackwood, 9 out of every 10 young children and their mothers can count on the survivors' benefits to keep the family together. Survivors' benefits may be payable to young children when the mother, who has been working, dies, even though the father is the family's primary source of support.

Nearly 4½ million survivors of deceased workers are receiving monthly benefits. The average benefit paid to a widowed mother with two children is about $190 per month.

Visit, write or telephone your social security office at Texarkana. The people there will be glad to give you any information or assistance you need.

U. S. Marking Time on Viet Nam Policy

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk denied today that the Johnson administration was "marking time" on policy issues of the anti-Communist war in South Viet Nam because an election campaign is going on in this country.

Rusk told a news conference he wanted to "hit that one" as hard as he could. He said the issues in South Viet Nam are major issues of war and peace. Rusk added that President Johnson has made it clear to his advisers that decisions with respect to South Viet Nam have nothing to do with the election and should be made without regard to the political campaign.

Then Rusk gave what appeared to be a new warning to the Cuban government that a serious situation will arise if Castro continues with any program of interference with other governments in the Western Hemisphere.

He also implied a stern warning to Indonesia against any attack on the Philippines, saying an attack on that island nation in the Western Pacific would, under the existing Treaty of Alliance, "be an attack on the United States."

Rusk's assertion on this point grew out of questions concerning the visit here earlier this week of President Diosdado Macapagal with President Johnson. Rusk did not say anything to indicate that he thought an Indonesian attack on the Philippines was, at this moment, a serious possibility.

Series Postpones Fund Raising

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The World Series has forced postponement of a $100-a-plate Richard M. Nixon Republican fund-raising dinner Oct. 13.

Walter C. Ploeser, Missouri Republican national committee chairman, said Wednesday the affair has been rescheduled for Oct. 24.

Ploeser said the interest of St. Louisans and visitors in the World Series forced postponement of the dinner.

Birthdays Have a Very Real Meaning After 40 at Which Time They Become Important

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals is the birthday problem.

When you are very young and terribly honest, a birthday is a frank adventure in invitational thievery.

As it is now anyway, a kid's mother pulls something hard and cold from the freezer, thaws it, pumps it up, puts it in the oven — and lo, a cake emerges, warm, fresh and wonderful.

Wrap some sugar icing around it, stick a few candles in it and you have a birthday cake, the centerpiece of the party.

The youthful hero of the occasion doesn't mind being a year older. To him the whole thing is an experience in looting. He stands in the doorway and challenges each small, burdened guest on entry with a greedy inquiry, "Well, what did you bring me?"

Ah, Wilderness! A generation or so ago birthdays didn't amount to much in large families and quite often went unrecognized and unwelcomed.

Many people did not even know for sure the date of their birth.

The late Sean O'Casey wrote back to Ireland from England to find out his age. He learned that instead of being 70 he was actually 73. Being a man, it made him feel prouder that he

Mrs. Butler Winner $10 Letter Prize

Mrs. Marjorie (Mrs. Billy Joe) Butler of Lewisville Road won the opening $10 cash prize in Hope Star's contest for the best letter of the month to be written the editor.

The September prize, paid last night to Mrs. Butler, was for her letter of September 28 regarding East 14th St. in Hope.

Each month, from September through June, The Star offers the $10 monthly prize for letters from the public, plus an additional $400 payable in June 1965 for the best essays written this school year by high school students, a grand total of $500 in writing prizes.

The school essay contest will be conducted in two divisions, $200 in cash prizes for Hempstead and $200 for Nevada counties. No essays will be accepted by The Star. Submissions must be made through the student's school. The school will forward contestants' essays to the newspaper for final judging. No essay publication will be made until after the awarding of prizes next June.

Compromise Won by Eight Co. Judges

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Eight county judges talked a Legislative Council committee into compromise over something very dear to the judges Wednesday—their jobs.

The State and Local Government Committee of the council was considering a proposal that would:

—Remove judicial authority from the judge.
—Allow counties to replace the quorum court with a seven-member supervisory board. This board could also replace the judge, establishing a county manager form of government.

The second part of the proposal upset the judges. Crittenden County Judge Milton R. Beck said that big counties were for the proposal because their quorum courts had become too large and unwieldy.

Pope County Judge R. D. Howell said the easy with which elections could be called under the proposal would create havoc in small counties.

Judge Ray Sikes of Little River County said the fact that the seven members of the supervisory board would be elected at large would allow one city to elect all seven members in some counties, depriving rural areas of representation.

Rep. Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County, the least populous in the state, was named chairman of a special committee to work with the judges and come up with a compromise proposal.

The quorum court is composed of justices of the peace, with one being elected for every 200 county residents.

Humphrey Loses 3 Wrist Watches

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey already has lost three wrist watches and numerous sets of cuff links to admirers. And the campaign still has more than three weeks to go.

The latest incident occurred Wednesday night at Sharon, Pa., where the Democratic vice presidential nominee was mobbed by well wishers grabbing for his hand after a speech at a rally.

When he got to his car, he found his watch and a set of LBJ cuff links were missing. "I'm sure it's not intentional," he said. "A lot of people get a firm grip on your arm and something gives."

Drunk Pilot a Factor, CAB Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board reported Wednesday that its investigation of two separate fatal light plane crashes earlier this year showed intoxication of the pilot was a factor in each instance.

The names of pilots were not given. In each crash only the pilot was aboard.

The CAB said one of the pilots was to have ferried a Piper PA-12 from Paragould, Ark., to Marianna, Fla., by way of Dyersburg, Tenn., on Feb. 21. The plane crashed near Ripley, Tenn.

The CAB investigators said a post-mortem examination of the pilot "revealed a blood alcohol result of 0.23 per cent, which is an amount sufficient to cause a serious degree of intoxication."

The probable cause was listed as "disorientation and loss of control caused by intoxication of the pilot."

The other pilot left McAllen, Tex., April 22 and crashed near San Carlos, Tex.

New Strike Looms in Auto Plant

By GENE SCHROEDER

DETROIT (AP) — The threat of a new strike loomed over the nation's auto industry today as negotiators continued efforts to settle local plant demands and end a nationwide walkout against General Motors.

Fewer than 20 settlements were reported at some 130 bargaining units around the country.

National contract bargaining was broken off Wednesday between the United Auto Workers and American Motors Corp., when the talks bogged down in disagreement over retaining a unique profit sharing provision.

Douglas Fraser, who heads the UAW negotiation team, said that there is still time to reach a settlement before the AMC contract expires at midnight Oct. 15, but if no agreement is reached by that time "there will be a strike."

Edward L. Cushman, AMC vice president leading the company negotiators, said the union had rejected a proposal to finance increased pension and insurance benefits through the profit sharing program.

Cushman was asked if he felt the UAW's turnaround meant that profit sharing was dead for the next three-year labor contract.

"I would say so," he replied. But Fraser disagreed, contending the profit-sharing provision was still on the bargaining table and any decision to discard it would not be made unilaterally by one side or the other.

The profit-sharing plan — termed "progress sharing" by the negotiators — was adopted for the first time in 1961 and is the only such program in the auto industry.

It sets up a special fund tied to the company's profits and used to finance some fringe benefits. Part of the money is set aside for the purchase of common stock for the company's 26,000 UAW-represented employees.

Charges LBJ in Deception, Double Talk

By JACK BELL

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater charged today President Johnson is basing his campaign "on political double-talk as to his own record and political deception as to mine."

The Republican presidential nominee charged into the Southwest after a foray into New Jersey, marred somewhat by heckling in several spots.

In a speech prepared for Lubbock, Goldwater said that even though Johnson was in the midst of a six-day campaign tour the President had refused to discuss the key issues of the campaign.

Johnson, in speeches Tuesday in Raleigh, N.C., and Wednesday at Des Moines, Iowa, said Goldwater's farm policy would wipe out farm price supports and this, the President contended, would cut farm income in half and bankrupt one of every five farmers.

Today Goldwater replied: "Republicans are pledged to return farmers to the free

Spa Neighbor Is Against Gambling

MALVERN, Ark. (AP) — The elected officials of Hot Spring County, which borders Garland County, have gone on record against legalized gambling, a Baptist minister said here Wednesday night.

Rev. Harold Presley, a representative of Churches United Against Gambling, said the group signed a simple resolution which said:

"We, the elected officials, of Hot Spring County, go on record as opposing Amendment No. 55."

Presley ready the resolution and the names of the signers would appear soon in an advertisement in the Malvern Daily Record.

Those signing the resolution were:

Sheriff M. R. Gill, County Judge Neil Phelan, County Clerk Paul Shuffield, County Clerk-elect Gray Cullen, Circuit Clerk Paul Burnett, Treasurer Norris White, Tax Assessor Mrs. Hazel Brunley and Rep. W. J. (Bill) Tucker.

Representatives of the Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce said two weeks ago that Garland County had the approval of all surrounding counties for the attempt to legalize the casinos at Hot Springs.

The signatures of state Sens. Virgil T. Fletcher of Benton and C. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs were not on the resolution. Fletcher and Hurst represent Hot Spring, Garland, Saline and Clark counties.

Presley said Gill "really led the way in this thing and I don't know whether the senators even knew about it."

LBJ Predicting Victory by a Big Landslide

By FRANK CORMIER

IN THE MIDWEST WITH JOHNSON (AP) — President Johnson, who is telling Midwest audiences he expects the biggest election landslide in history, said today one campaign issue is whether to chop up the American economic system for firewood.

Swinging into the second day of an 11-state tour, Johnson stopped first at the racially mixed industrial city of East Chicago, Ind., where he appealed for liberalization of the immigration laws — something opposed by William E. Miller, the Republican vice presidential nominee.

Large and noisy crowds greeted the President in East Chicago before he flew to Indianapolis.

In his Indianapolis speech, Johnson likened the American economic system to a sturdy oak with its roots in the Midwest.

"And the issue today," he said, "is whether to tend this oak with care, nourish its growth as it must be nourished — or whether we chop it up for firewood."

A marked change in the tone of Johnson's campaigning became apparent Wednesday in Iowa and Illinois.

For the first time since his nomination, Johnson began grabbing almost every opportunity to shout for a Democratic victory — by a landslide — in November. Toned down were his efforts to take a nonpartisan, above-the-battle stance.

Johnson, swinging through Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky today, gave an all-out demonstration of his new campaign style Wednesday night in Peoria, Ill., at the convention of the Illinois AFL-CIO.

Speaking off the cuff in a smoky, bare-raftered armory, Johnson hollered out a rhetorical question about the campaign: "Are we going to get the job done, and are we going to do it up brown?"

Yes, came the roar from the labor union conventioners.

Quickly, Johnson shot back that Thomas E. Dewey, the GOP presidential nominee of 1948, "thought he was going to do it up brown." But Harry Truman won the victory.

Johnson noted that all the public opinion polls showed Dewey winning — just as most put Johnson well ahead of Republican Barry Goldwater.

Reds Claim Proof Four Were Spying

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda said today that four Western military attaches accused of spying confirmed sites of Soviet intercontinental ballistic missiles.

The Soviet Communist party paper printed pictures of two notes it claimed were taken from the three American military attaches and the assistant British naval attaché.

One note said: "New rail overpass under construction. Probably leads to ICBM site." The other said: "ICBM sites confirmed."

Both notes were written in longhand in English.

Pravda printed an account of the attaches' 4,000-mile train trip last week across Siberia under the headline "Spying voyage."

Pravda said 900 photographs and 26 notebooks were taken from the attaches.

The four men are expected to return here Friday after stopping in Tokyo, Hong Kong and New Delhi. The Soviets may expel them from the country.

The United States and Britain protested to Moscow last week that Soviet agents broke into the attaches' hotel rooms in Khabarovsk, searched them and seized their property.

The Soviet Union replied Tuesday by accusing the attaches of spying.

The United States and Britain rejected the charge. The attaches are Col. J. A. Aubrey, Lt. Col. Carl Liewer, and Maj. James F. Smith of the U.S. Embassy and Lt. Cmdr. Nigel N. Laville of the British Embassy.

to the conference of nonaligned nations.

Nasser's government said Tshombe would not be released until his government withdraws gendarmes surrounding the United Arab Republic Embassy in Leopoldville.

An aide said Tshombe does not want to go home anyway and is quite happy to remain here and watch the conference on television.

The aide said Tshombe is banking on a telegram sent Tuesday to Nasser by President Joseph Kasavubu of the Congo protesting the treatment of Tshombe. Informal sources said the telegram told Nasser that Tshombe was the proper premier of the Congo and should be permitted admission to the conference.

President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, bitter enemy of Tshombe, urged that a "peace force" of the Organization of African Unity be sent to pacify the Congo.

Nkrumah told the conference that a peace force should be kept in the Congo until new elections could bring about a "democratic republic."

All foreign troops and mercenaries should be forced to leave the Congo immediately, Nkrumah added. He asked the conference to order foreign powers to keep hands off the Congo and to demand that white mercenaries brought in by Tshombe be withdrawn.

The United States has sent transport planes and ground crews to ferry Congolese troops to points of rebel resistance in the eastern and northern Congo. Tshombe had said Tuesday night he was abandoning his attempt to attend the conference and would leave for home immediately.

dence, the President exhorted his audience to get out and work for the Democratic ticket and help give "Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey the biggest victory..." Cheers drowned out the rest.

It was the President's first public statement indicating uneasiness over the poll results and his election prospects. But this statement was overshadowed, time and time again, by unequivocal Johnson forecasts before crowds in Springfield, Peoria and Chicago.

Arriving at Chicago's O'Hare International Airport for an overnight stay at a nearby motel, Johnson said flatly: "The Democratic party is going to have the greatest victory in November in the history of America."

That would mean topping Franklin D. Roosevelt's 1936 record of taking 46 of the then 48 states from Republican Alfred E. Landon. The GOP then carried only Maine and Vermont.

Johnson told the AFL-CIO delegates he had been on the go all day long — "and I'm going to keep going until Nov. 3." And he made it clear that he wants other Democrats to do the same.

"We have much to preserve and much to protect," he concluded. "Now go and do your duty."

Beside making a determined effort to whip up grass-roots campaign work among Democrats, Johnson belabored his election opposition at every turn but without ever mentioning Goldwater by name.

In one such speech, which actually was put on videotape in Washington Tuesday, Johnson appeared on television screens coast to coast Wednesday night — it was a paid political broadcast — to argue the election choice.

Contending that 20 years of non-partisan policies to promote freedom and peace "are under the severest attack," Johnson said that if the unnamed attackers were heeded, "The peace of the world will be in grave danger."

blocked in retaliation for Nasser's treatment of Tshombe.

A Congolese Embassy official in Cairo told newsmen the Egyptians would have to give way first.

"We will end the restrictions on their embassy in Leopoldville when they release Premier Tshombe here," he said.

Congolese Charge d'Affaires Rene Bavasa, after a three-hour visit with Tshombe Wednesday night, told newsmen he hoped "this mess" would be cleared up today.

He said Tshombe had cabled Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu to find out "just what is going on down there." But he said Tshombe had sent no instructions to lift the siege on the embassy.

Reports circulated that Nasser's United Arab Republic government would suspend diplomatic relations with Leopoldville.

Asked how Tshombe was taking his confinement, Bavasa replied: "You know Tshombe. He's always in good spirits. He's back there watching the conference on television."

Tshombe had insisted on attending the conference despite a cable from its leaders to Kasavubu telling the president he would be welcome but not the premier. Kasavubu angrily rejected the suggestion, saying it was the Congo's business who it sent to an organization of which it was a charter member.

Cairo Airport refused Monday to let Tshombe's chartered plane land and he flew to Athens. He returned early Tuesday by commercial airliner and was clapped into the Aruba Palace.

The Arizona senator said that Johnson was taking credit for everything "that is good in the world," and "blamed all who oppose him for everything that could possibly be bad."

In New Jersey Wednesday night, Goldwater had two of the most wildly enthusiastic receptions of his campaign at West Essex and Teaneck.

There were dissenting teenagers waving unfriendly placards and shouting, "We want Johnson." But the Goldwater supporters booed and shouted down most of the heckling efforts.

Civil rights groups and other organized groups joined in picketing around the armories where Goldwater spoke. His audiences were almost exclusively white.

Goldwater took the organized heckling with a smile, and asked his partisans not to boo. He said his critics had a right to be heard, and should be excused because they didn't know what they were doing.

The Arizona senator pledged his personal leadership, if elected, to a "war on crime." He called anew for morality in government and attacked the President for what Goldwater

Municipal League Ends 30th Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Municipal League, wrapped up its 30th annual convention here Wednesday night after adopting a half dozen resolutions designed to lead to a solution for cities' financial plight.

The league also handed out some criticism.

The state Public Service Commission was rapped because it did not order public utility companies to pass a tax savings on to its customers.

The PSC decided instead to let the utilities put the money into improvements.

The league adopted a resolution instructing its president to appoint a committee to study utility rates and report to the league's executive committee "for further action."

It also resolved to conduct a comparison study of amounts paid by utilities to cities and amounts cities pay for street lighting, telephones, gas, electric service and other utilities.

One Appearance in Home Town

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater will make his only hometown campaign appearance tonight in Phoenix.

The Arizona senator will address a dinner session at the annual convention of the Contracting Plasterers and Lathers' International Association.

One labor leader has said he'll boycott the dinner.

Sal Maso, head of the 20,000 member Wood, Wire and Metal Association, said Goldwater has a one hundred per cent anti-education record.

Goldwater has opposed every federal program that is helping to improve Arkansas' educational system," he said.

Rozzell attacked Goldwater for proposing that parents be allowed tax credits for educational expenses.

"Nothing could be better calculated to undermine the public school system and make the educationally rich richer and the educationally poor poorer," he said.

"There is no question about President Johnson's dedication to the goal of giving every child a chance to develop his talents to the fullest whether he was born in an Ozark cabin or in a pillared mansion," Rozzell said.

Lathers' Union said Wednesday he won't be present "with a man who, by his own words, has so clearly placed himself at odds with the trade union movement."

Rozzell Raps Goldwater on Education

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican nominee for president, "does not understand the educational problems of Arkansas or any other state," an Arkansas education official said Wednesday.

"Nothing could be better calculated to undermine the public school system and make the educationally rich richer and the educationally poor poorer," he said.

"There is no question about President Johnson's dedication to the goal of giving every child a chance to develop his talents to the fullest whether he was born in an Ozark cabin or in a pillared mansion," Rozzell said.

Lathers' Union said Wednesday he won't be present "with a man who, by his own words, has so clearly placed himself at odds with the trade union movement."

Thursday, October 8
The Hope Womens Golf Association will hold its regular monthly meeting at 12:30 Thursday, October 8 at the Hope Country Club.

A film, "The Story of Flowers" was shown to members of the Gardenia Garden Club by Mrs. Jim James at a meeting held at the Youth Center on Thursday, October 1. The president, Mrs. Bob Turner, conducted routine matters of business.

The 10 members were joined by two guests, Mrs. R. B. Moore, Jr. and Mrs. Mildred Reaves. Mrs. Bob Turner and Mrs. Wallace Monroe were the hostesses and they served cake and coffee for refreshments.

The Guernsey P.T.A. will meet in the school auditorium Thursday, October 8 at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Carol Journeaux will bring the President's Message, and the 11th grade room mothers will be hostesses.

The regular monthly meeting of the Blevins P.T.A. will be held Thursday, October 8 in the high school auditorium. The theme for the program is "Relation Between Home and School." All parents are urged to be present.

Saturday, October 10
A Patrol Leaders Workshop for patrol leaders, assistant patrol leaders, and troop leaders will be held for the Girl Scout Melovine Neighborhood on Saturday, October 10 from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church. Those attending are asked to bring notebook, handbook and pencil, and a nosebag lunch.

Monday, October 12
Wesleyan Service Guild No. 2 will meet in the home of Mrs. Jamie Russell at 7:30 p.m. Monday, October 12. The devotion will be brought by Mrs. Forrest Hutton and the program by Mrs. Royce Weisenberger.

Wesleyan Service Guild Number One of the Methodist Church will meet Monday, October 12 in the home of Mrs. James McLarty, Jr., 1502 South Main St., with Mrs. Hazel Castle as co-hostess. Mrs. J. W. Perkins will be program leader and the subject will be "A New Age Opens New Doors."

The Ann Wollerman Circle of the First Baptist Church will meet Monday night, October 12, at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. Aline Johnson, 704 East Third Street. All members are urged to be present.

Tuesday, October 13
The Hope Iris Club will meet Tuesday, October 13 at 2:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. James Walker of Blevins with Mrs. Harold Stephens, co-hostess. Each member is asked to bring a line mass arrangement for a hall.

Wednesday, October 14
The regular meeting of the Friendship Home Demonstration Club will be held in the H. A. Woodruff home Wednesday, October 14 at 7:30 p.m.

Bridge Club Meets
Mrs. Floyd Leverett entertained her bridge club on Tuesday night, October 6 and had attractive arrangements of Guernsey lilies in her home. The two tables of players included club members and one guest, Miss Mary Roy-Moses.

At the conclusion of play, Mrs. George Frazier was high, Mrs. Lloyd Guerin was second high, and Mrs. Bill Watson won the game prize. Dessert and coffee were served for refreshments.

Tuesday Bridge Club
At a meeting of a local Tuesday Bridge Club in Mrs. R. T. White's home October 6, Mrs.

Floyd Spencer was high scorer. Second high was Mrs. George Robinson. Seasonal flowers were seen in the home where two tables of club members gathered. The hostess served cake and coffee after scores were tallied.

Housewarming For Spring Hill Resident
Friends of Mrs. Ludie Butler of Spring Hill had a housewarming for her in her new home Saturday night, October 3. Mrs. Warren Butler was hostess for the group of about 30 friends from Hope and Spring Hill who called. Attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Audrey McDowell of Ft. Worth and Lawrence McDowell of Arlington, Texas.

Gifts for her home were brought to the honored guest by those coming to the party. For refreshments cookies, coffee, and punch were served.

Circle 2, WSCS, Meets
Circle 2, WSCS, of the First Methodist Church met Monday, October 5, in the home of Mrs. Hinton Davis with Mrs. Thornton and Mrs. Richards as hostesses.

The meeting was opened with the repeating of the Lord's Prayer led by the leader, Miss Dell McClanahan. During the business session, it was announced that the week of Prayer will be held in the church October 26 through the 30th.

Mrs. Fred McElroy had charge of a most interesting program on "a new age opens new doors." She spoke on the four topics, "change or not to change, a new age makes new demands, the new age touches some tender spots, and a woman's place is everywhere — anywhere she is needed." A group discussion was held at the close of each topic.

The hostesses with the assistance of Mrs. Davis, served pie and coffee to the ten members present.

Saratoga PTA Meets
The Saratoga PTA held its first meeting of the school year in the school cafeteria with Mrs. Joe McAdams, vice-president, conducting the meeting. The meeting came to order with the group repeating patriotic ritual. The devotion was given by Mrs. Matha Cooley. Mrs. M. H. Peebles read the presidents message.

During the business session, Mrs. Eloise Garner was elected as worker in the school cafeteria. Membership drive opened Friday, October 2, and will continue for two weeks. Room count went to the first and eleventh grades.

James McCorkle addressed the PTA with his subject, "Vote" and "how we as Citizens of the U.S. should use our authority, just one vote could win for your party."

Refreshments were planned and served by hospitality chairman, Mrs. Matha Cooley and hospitality committee.

Engagement Announced

Miss Claudine Osburn

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Osburn announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Claudine to Pvt. Richard Wilkison, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Wilkison of Hope. Pvt. Wilkison is stationed at Camp Polk, La. The wedding is planned for Friday, October 9.

Conway Co. Jury Now Deliberates

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — The Conway County Grand Jury apparently reached the deliberative stage Wednesday. It has been ordered by Circuit Judge Wiley Bean to indict either Sheriff Marlin Hawkins or former newspaper publisher Gene Wirges.

No witnesses were scheduled to testify at today's session. Wednesday's testimony came from Hawkins, ex-Seago of the Pine Bluff Commercial, Arnold Bradford of the County Audit Division of the comptroller's office, Maj. Mack Thompson of the State Police and John R. Starr of The Associated Press. Seago and Starr covered a news conference at which Wirges made allegations about irregularities in the sheriff's office.

Proceedings of a grand jury are kept secret until an indictment is returned. The jury was empaneled Monday. It also heard testimony from Wirges, Chester Boyer of near Blackwell, and Chris Button of KARK-TV Little Rock.

Boyer had asked Prosecutor Jeff Mobley to investigate his arrest by Hawkins on a traffic charge in 1958. Boyer appeared with Wirges at the news conference.

Wirges and Hawkins have feuded for years. Wirges lost his newspaper, the Morrilton Democrat, to creditors after two libel judgments were returned against him last year.

Jackson, Miss., were guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Johnnie Beasley several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Audrey McDowell, and Gary, Ft. Worth, and Lawrence McDowell, Arlington, Texas, spent the weekend with their sister, Mrs. Aubrey Collier, Jr., and family.

British Girls Aid Husbands in Politics

By TOM OCHILTEE
LONDON (AP) — Two shy clergymen's daughters — Lady Douglas-Horne and Mrs. Harold Wilson — strengthen the political hopes of their husbands with quiet devotion, common sense and advice and the knack of making their men feel like winners. They both do all they can to help without once diverting the spotlight from their husbands.

Elizabeth Hester Douglas-Horne, 54, and Mary Baldwin Wilson, 48, come from rival political camps, yet their personal experiences are remarkably similar. They travel endless miles, smile until their faces ache and meet floods of people as Prime Minister Sir Alex Douglas-Horne, the Conservative party leader, and Harold Wilson, head of the Labor party, stump the country asking for support in Britain's Oct. 15 national election.

Each woman travels with her husband, sits on the platform with him, keeps his sense of humor functioning and offers encouragement if the day has been rough.

"I like my husband to know I am nearby when he speaks," said Lady Douglas-Horne. Mrs. Wilson felt the same way.

In a series of recent interviews the two women have given a clear picture of what life is like for the wives of British political leaders.

Campaigning usually starts in the morning and runs through a series of meetings in cities and crossroads until late at night. The wives hear variations of the same speech over and over. They have learned to laugh on cue, to appear grave-faced at the proper passages and above all never to get sleepy or seem bored no matter how stuffy the hall or hot the lights.

Lady Douglas-Horne, tall, distinguished looking and self-assured, waits her husband to sense her boundless confidence in him. She explained:

"I have always known he was capable of holding any political office in the land. He is tough both mentally and physically. He can really lash out quite well."

"I'm not a speaker or anything like that, but I enjoy meeting people. I love the political life."

Lady Douglas-Horne doesn't let rowdy incidents bother her. She resents what she regards as emotional, unfair criticism of her husband but she is too well-bred to allow her feelings to show.

Mrs. Wilson also knows how to mask her emotions. She has

Cites Value of Public Housing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The regional director of the Public Housing Administration said here Wednesday that the PHA program is filling "a real need in your state."

Thomas H. Callahan, named regional director of the Fort Worth, Tex., office a few days ago, said that 7,801 PHA units are being developed in 62 Arkansas communities.

These units will house about 40,000 people, he said. In addition, 1,583 homes in 18 Arkansas cities are under application, Callahan said.

fair hair, cornflower blue eyes and a peaches-and-cream complexion.

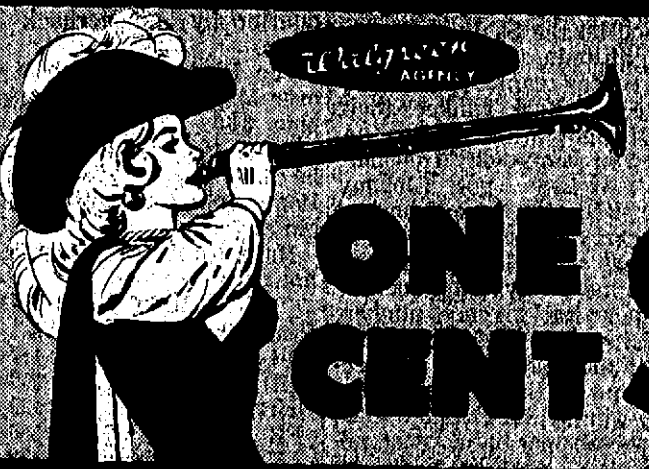

Widely read, a spare-time writer of poetry and an accomplished singer, Mrs. Wilson up to now has kept her family's inconspicuous, white-washed home in London's Hampstead Garden suburb separate from the bubbling political world of her husband.

The two Wilson children are Robin, 20, a mathematics student at Oxford University, and Giles, 16. All the family like to sing and play musical instruments together.

The Douglas-Horne household is made up of one son and three daughters and numerous relatives.

Figures Hope Over Eagles by Touchdown

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

The Big 12 Conference standings underwent major surgery last weekend, and another dose of the same seems in prospect this week.

The schedule pairs Little Rock Hall, the No. 1 team in the Associated Press Arkansas high school football poll, with Blytheville, the No. 3 team.

Fort Smith Northside, No. 2, meets Little Rock Central, No. 6.

And in a top Class AA game tonight, Conway meets Little Rock Catholic, pairing the Nos. 7 and 8 teams.

We dipped below .700 for the second time this season, but here we go again:

Little Rock Hall 21, Blytheville 14. Kincaid and air power. And we've been wrong quite a lot about Blytheville this season.

North Little Rock 7, Jonesboro 0. Defense carries the Wildcats.

Fort Smith 14, Little Rock Central 7. The Grizzlies are fighting to stay alive.

Pine Bluff 12, El Dorado 10. The Zebras are down, but still sufficient.

Fayetteville 20, Springdale 16. Gardner's go-power.

Texarkana 21, Hot Springs 18. Not so easy, anymore.

Now, the Class AA:

Harrison 7, Subiaco 6.

Bentonville 14, Grove, Okla., 8.

Rogers 20, Huntsville 7.

Van Buren 14, Siloam Springs 7.

Helena 14, Batesville 13.

West Memphis 18, DeWitt 14.

Marianna 13, Forrest City 0.

Newport 7, Paragould 0.

Stuttgart 24, Wynne 7.

Benton 19, Mabelvale 13.

Walton Chapel 8, Cabot 6.

Conway 21, Little Rock Catholic 20.

Jacksonville 10, Searcy 6.

Russellville 13, Morrilton 12.

Sylvan Hills 14, Sheridan 7.

Magnolia 28, Arkadelphia 0.

Malvern 14, Camden 12.

Hope 7, Crossett 0.

De Queen 17, Camden Fairview 13.

Smackover 14, Warren 13.

How Do You Figure the World Series

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Figuring the Series:

Right fielder Mike Shannon's game-tying home run in the sixth inning of Wednesday's Series opener was the first by St. Louis Cardinal since the fourth game of the 1946 classic when Enos Slaughter connected. Slaughter, too, was a right fielder.

Elston Howard's two passed balls tied the Series record for one game. The last to do it before the Yankee catcher was Pittsburgh's Smokey Burgess in 1960 — against the Yanks. Four others share the mark.

Yankee first baseman Joe Mauer, who had his difficulties offensively and defensively in last year's classic, went hitless in five tries Wednesday. This reduced his Series batting average to .118 with two hits in 18 trips covering five games.

Because the capacity of Busch Stadium is only 30,500, Wednesday's attendance of 30,805 was since the 1950 opener when the smallest for a Series game Yanks and Phils played before 30,746.

In a pinch, pinch runners can be useful. All three used in the Series opener scored. They were Julian Javier and Jerry Buck of St. Louis and Mike Hegan of New York.

Veteran Named Pro of Year

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Lyle Wehrman, veteran pro at the Merced, Calif., Golf and County Club, is the PGA golf professional of the year.

The election of Wehrman for outstanding achievements and service to golf was announced by PGA President Warren Cantrill. He was chosen from among 26 sectional nominees by an anonymous committee of amateur golfers.

Dodgers Abandon Work Agreement

GRAND FORKS, N.D. (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers have announced they will not renew their Northern League working agreement with Grand Forks for next season.

Two other league teams are without agreements for 1965. Detroit pulled out of Duluth-Superior and St. Louis ended its pact with Winnipeg.

Cards Scramble Yankees for Opening Win

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "So the Yankees want to scramble. It's all right with us. We're the best scramblers in baseball."

Southpaw star Curt Simmons summed up the St. Louis Cardinals' attitude going into today's second game after handing the New York Yankees their fifth straight World Series defeat 9-5 in Wednesday's opener.

The victory put Johnny Keane, who still doesn't have a contract to manage the Cardinals next year, in the driver's seat, in more ways than one.

He now has his ace pitcher, right-hander Bob Gibson, to fire against the Yankees in the second game of the Series. If the Cards win, it would put the 33-year-old skipper in a most advantageous position when he sits down with owner Gusie Busch to discuss his status next week.

Yogi Berra, who saw his ace, veteran Whitey Ford, go down under a Redbird barrage, featured by young Mike Shannon's towering home run, must rely on a rookie, Mel Stottlemyre, to pitch the first Yankee post season victory since October 1962.

Stottlemyre, a 22-year-old right-hander, was a key factor in the Yankee pennant victory this year. Brought up from Richmond in mid-August, he posted a 9-3 record with a 2.16 earned run average.

Gibson, with a 19-12 record during the regular season, was to have been Keane's opening-game pitcher but the fireballing native of Omaha, Neb., had to be summoned from the bullpen for the pennant clincher Sunday.

"Winning the first game means a great deal, of course," said Keane, "but what pleases me most is that we've now got our pitching rotation straightened out."

"I think we're in good position now with Gibson going for us in the second game and one game in the bag. I like Gibson any time he goes out, no matter who we're playing."

Six pitchers were used in the opener, the Yankees employing four. Neither starter, Ford of the Yankees nor Ray Sadecki of the Cards, had it Wednesday, as each team cracked a dozen hits.

Al Downing, Pete Mikkelsen and Hal Reniff followed Ford to the mound with the southpaw absorbing the loss.

Whitey, whose 10 triumphs are a Series record, now has lost eight, including his last four starts. Shannon's two-run homer, a towering 450-foot blast, which tied the score at 4-4 in the sixth inning, started Ford's downfall. Tim McCarver's follow-up double finished him.

Sadecki was credited with the victory but it took a three-inning relief job by Barney Schultz, the 38-year-old knuckleballer, to preserve the triumph.

Curt Flood, Lou Brock, McCarver and Shannon each had two hits in this scrambling game in which the Yankees committed two errors and catcher Elston Howard was guilty of two passed balls.

The Yankees, too, had their hitting clothes on, especially Tommy Tresh, who whacked a double and home run. They grabbed a 3-1 lead in the second inning in which they had Sadecki on the ropes but let him get away.

Five hits shook up the young left-hander pretty good, but Ford was cut down at the plate on a line throw by Brock from left field. That proved to be the turning point of the game.

"If Ford had scored," said Keane, "I would have taken Sadecki out. Even then, another hit and Ray was gone."

Bobcats Travel to Crossett Friday Night

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star Sports Writer

Crosssett Coach Alan Howard's Bobcats will take their longest trip of the season tomorrow as they journey to Crossett to battle the rugger Eagles.

With their homecoming on the line, the Eagles are going all out to spoil things for the Bobcats, who share top spot in the district with Warren. Both are undefeated in regional play. Crosssett is 2-2.

It was two years ago that the Eagles handed Hope its first conference defeat and sent the Bobcats plummeting into a losing streak.

In last year's contest the Cats unmercifully butchered Crosssett 31-0.

Rugged Warren and Malvern have both shut down the Eagles this season.

In a rugged defensive match the Lumberjacks downed the Eagles 6-0 last week at Crosssett. The only score came early in the game on a long drive by Warren. The rest of the game was a defensive contest. Crosssett had a late TD called back.

Malvern was able to come through on a recovered fumble early in the game and then a spectacular run in the second quarter by quarterback Phil Clem.

The Birds have district wins over Magnolia 7-0, and Arkadelphia, 34-0.

Game time for the match will be the regular 7:30. Special Homecoming activities will begin at 7:10.

Knew It Was Long Gone, Says Whitey

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I knew it was gone without looking," said Ford, 35-year-old veteran of many a World Series.

Shannon's two-run towering drive in the sixth inning Wednesday traveled more than 450 feet, struck the beer sign atop the scoreboard in left field and tied the score at 4-4. It spurred the Cardinals to a four-run inning and a 9-5 victory in the first game of the World Series.

"That homer gave me the biggest thrill of my life," Shannon told reporters huddled around him in the clubhouse. Then added sheepishly: "But it wasn't the longest I ever hit."

"I hit one last year that struck the clock on top of the scoreboard in Pittsburgh."

A grin crept over his Irish face.

"I even hit a longer homer in Dublin—Dublin, Ga., of course," he said. "I really shillaleghed that one."

The lanky 25-year-old right fielder, a bit embarrassed by the attention given him, took it all in stride.

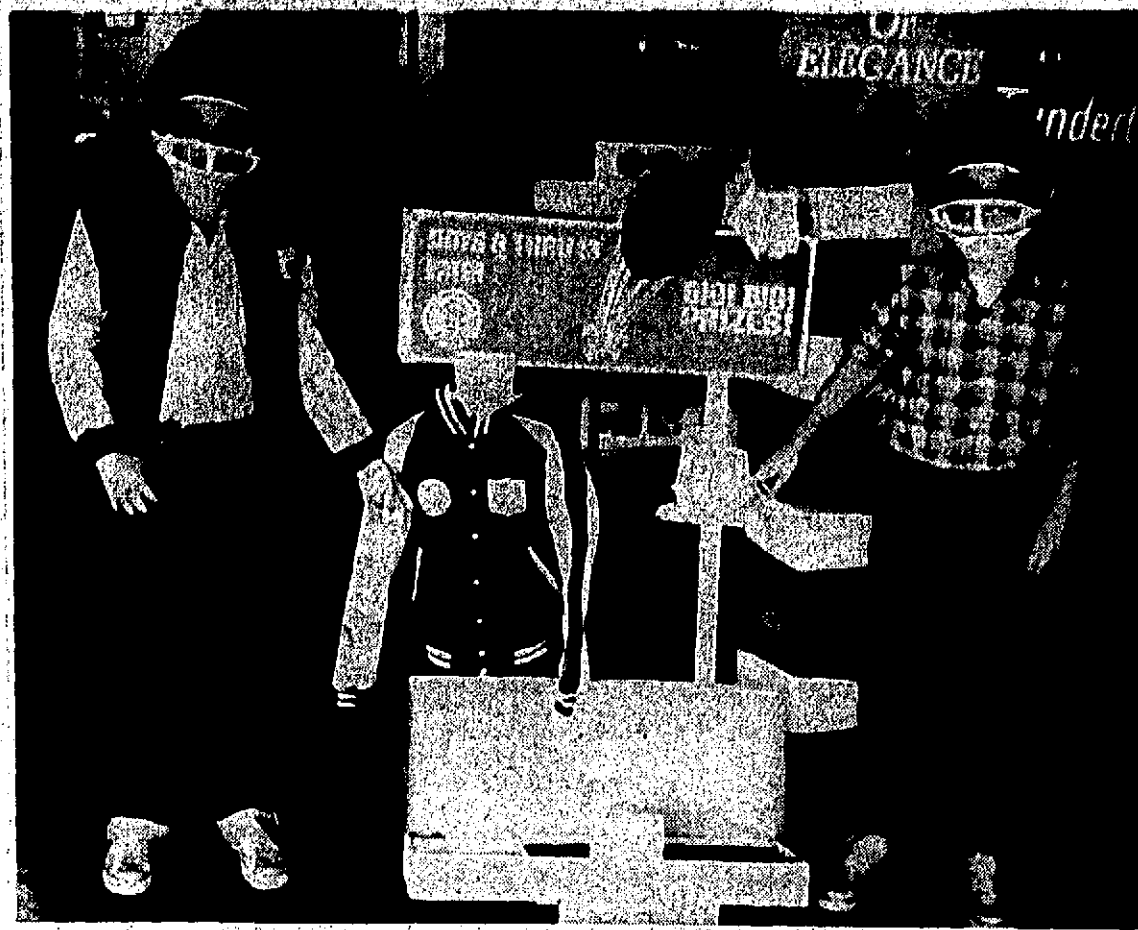

"Dick Groat, Ken Boyer and Bill White are the big men on this club, but every day one of the rest of us comes through to help out," he said. "Today, it was my turn."

His turn has been a long time coming. Once famed more for his football ability as a quarterback with Christian Brothers High School in his native St. Louis and then as a freshman at the University of Missouri.

"But I'm a low-ball pitcher and that is probably Yogi's (Manager Yogi Berra) reason for pitching me here. When I'm off and tagged, it's mostly for singles. I don't give up too many homers."

The young right-hander from Mabton, Wash., said he was impressed by the Cardinals. "They have a well-balanced team and speed," he said.

Pass, Punt and Kick Winners

JIMMY AND JERRY PRUDEN, NEWCOMERS to Hope and winners for the past two years in Pass, Punt and Kick competition at Wabash, Ind., model their past year awards and point to the many prizes that can be won in competition here on Saturday, Oct. 17, now on display in the showroom of the Hope Auto Co.

Shannon still snapped up an offer to play baseball.

He signed with St. Louis for $50,000 in 1958 but spent five years in the minor leagues before he got a chance with the Cardinals in 1963. He played in 36 games but spent most of the time as a defensive replacement for Stan Musial.

Musial retired after that season and the Cardinals gave Shannon a good chance to stick in spring training. But he had a terrible spring and was sent back down with no options left.

If the Cardinals had not recalled him this season, he would have been subject to the winter draft.

"I made up my mind to work as hard as I could to improve my hitting," said the 6-foot-2, 195-pound right-handed hitter.

"I had to. I've got a wife and four kids at home."

International's Most Valuable

MONTREAL (AP) — Third baseman Joe Morgan of the Jacksonville Suns was voted the most valuable player in the International League during the 1964 season, the league disclosed today.

The 33-year-old veteran, who sparked the Suns to the regular season pennant, was named on 15 of 23 ballots cast by the league's baseball writers participating in the voting.

Morgan, a left-handed batter, hit .290 and led the Suns in run batted in with 93 and home runs with 16. He previously was chosen the International League's all-star third baseman.

Youths Urged to Sign Up in Contest

Director for the Hempstead County Punt, Pass & Kick competition open to boys 8 through 13, has warned that only a few days remain in which Hempstead County area boys can register for this event.

Top performers can win a Washington, D. C., Tour of Champions, plus an appearance at a National Football League championship game on January 3, 1965.

Registrations will close Thursday evening, October 15, Mr. Gough pointed out, and none can be accepted any later, since we must draw up our competition lists and get everything ready for the big program on Saturday, October 17.

Headquarters for P & K registration, open to all boys eight through 13, is at Hope Auto Co. Registrants must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. There is no charge for registration nor is any special equipment needed. Competitors will vie with others of their own age in punting, passing and kicking distance and accuracy. There is no body contact.

Prizes in the Hempstead County competition include Dallas Cowboys warm-up jackets, place-kicker outfit and autographed footballs. These are

Rattlesnakes on Golf Course

SUNSET CITY, Calif. (AP) — Three rattlesnakes were clubbed on the spanking new Sunset Oaks course as PGA tournament golf came back to the Sacramento Valley today after a lapse of 26 years.

Return of the touring pros was blessed with cool, cloudy weather, with a hint of possible weekend showers, as 145 pros start firing in the $25,000 Sunset Camellia Open, appropriately tabbed the "first annual."

Like the Fresno Open last weekend, when Toronto youngster George Knudson grabbed $5,000 first money in a sun-blistered playoff with fellow Canadian Al Balding, the cast of tour pros was notable for the absence of many big name stars. In fact, only six of the PGA's leading 30 money winners for 1964 were among the entries.

first, second and third place awards for boys 8, 9, and 10. Boys 11, 12, and 13 will be awarded gold, silver and bronze trophies.

Zone winners, determined by comparing scores of all local winners, will meet in a District competition. From the District champions, 168 boys will meet in NFL game Area competitions to determine 12 national finalists. The national finalists and their parents will go on a "Tour of Champions" to Washington, D. C. This will be followed by a trip to an NFL championship game (Rookie Bowl in Miami, Florida) where the national winners in each age group will be determined by a half-time competition in the crowded stadium.

Confusion Reigns in SWC Camp

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The confusion that usually accompanies the tippy-turvy Southwest Conference gridiron race even plaques some of the loop's best teams in the comparative calm of mid-week practice.

Arkansas' Razorbacks are rated No. 9 in the nation, boasting a perfect 3-0 season record and a 1-0 conference mark.

But Coach Frank Broyles said his Razorbacks "got all confused" in practicing Wednesday against the pro type passing attack they expect Baylor to employ Saturday night.

"There are so many things to go over," Broyles said. "We're just not sharp, but they're alert and trying."

At Waco, Lawrence Elkins missed the Baylor workout because of heavy cold. It wasn't necessarily a bad omen, however. The All-America flanker missed a whole week of practice before last year's Arkansas game, then caught eight passes for 110 yards and two touchdowns.

The only bad news in the Baylor camp was that Tommy Smith, another excellent pass receiver, will miss Saturday's game because of a sprained ankle.

Four University of Texas players—ends George Sauer and Dan Mauldin and tackles John Elliott and Clayton Lacy—were on the doubtful list for Saturday's big game in Dallas against Oklahoma. Coaches of the nation's No. 1 team found pleasure nevertheless in the snappy way the Longhorns went through their Wednesday afternoon workout.

The Texas Aggies completed their toughest drill of the week with the squad at full strength. Coach Hank Foldberg said he planned no changes in the starting lineup Saturday when the Aggies tackle Southern California at Los Angeles.

The Rice Owls, also California-bound this weekend, like-

Speed Record Effort Stalled

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Art Arfons headed home to Akron, Ohio, today, his effort to top his own world land speed record stalled by a flat tire.

The right back tire of Arfons' 17,000-horsepower jet car blew Wednesday as he streaked across the white salt desert of western Utah at nearly 500 miles an hour.

The blowout damaged the body of the car, called the Green Monster, and Arfons said he would have to take it back to his Akron garage to fix it.

Arfons was not hurt in the mishap.

Arfons, 38, set the record of 434.02 m.p.h. Monday in two passes over a one-mile course. He was clocked at 479 m.p.h. on one of the runs, but a two-way average must be established for the record.

On Wednesday, he was timed at 413.60 m.p.h. on his first run. But on the return trip the tire blew out.

wise were in good shape. Mike O'Grady, the No. 1 fullback is the only player who may not be sufficiently recovered from injuries for Saturday's game against Stanford.

Quarterback Danny Thomas appeared in good form as Southern Methodist worked out Wednesday. Larry Mullins, a sophomore from San Angelo, stepped into the No. 2 signal caller spot. The Mustangs are idle this week. Rice is their next foe.

Texas Christian Coach Abe Martin said he may start Kent Nix at quarterback against Texas Tech Saturday. Nix, who hit five of 10 passes in leading TCU's touchdown drive against Arkansas last week, would replace Randy Howard.

At Lubbock, Texas Tech Coach J. T. King said his squad showed improvement Wednesday. He had special praise for back Donny Anderson and guard James Henkel. Defensive guard Donnie Pack will miss Saturday and old injuries are keeping a couple of other players on the doubtful list.

Victor and Vanquished Were Quiet

By OM PENDERGAST

Associated Press Sports Writer ST. LOUIS (AP) — The victor and the vanquished sounded alike, and both dressing rooms were strangely quiet after the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the New York Yankees 9-5 in Wednesday's World Series opener.

"It was a tough day to pitch," said loser Whitey Ford, the crafty Yankee left-hander. "My control was off," added the winner, southpaw Ray Sadecki of the Cardinals.

You could hardly tell the winners from the losers, judging from the clubhouse atmosphere.

"We aren't whooping it up until it's all over," said the Cardinals' speedy left fielder, Lou Brock.

"We know we still have to win three more," echoed shortstop Dick Groat.

Johnny Keane, the Cards' slight, cigar-smoking manager, was so bombarded by reporters' questions he frequently cupped his ear to hear.

"We played methodical ball today," he said. "Our men came through when they had to. The Yankees were tough, but we arose to the occasion."

Manager Yogi Berra of the Yankees, munching a sandwich, had about the same attitude.

"I'm not disappointed," said Berra. "It's a strange ball park and we haven't played here. They (the Cards) just found some of the holes for their hits that we didn't."

Both teams had 12 hits and one home run, but the Yankees had two errors and — amazingly — no passed balls by their usually sterling catcher, Elston Howard.

Yankee left fielder Tom Tresh and Cardinal right fielder Mike Shannon each hit two-run homers. But Shannon's appeared the turning point of the game, tying the score at 4-4 in the sixth.

of the game — the one that got us the chance we needed and inspired the players," said Keane, "it would have to be Shannon's home run. It electrified the bench. That was about the longest ball I've ever seen hit out here."

Shannon's blast, with Ken Boyer aboard, rocketed off a beer advertisement for Cardinal owner August A. Busch Jr.'s brewery products atop the scoreboard in left. It got help from the 16 m.p.h. wind, blowing steadily down the line.

Howard said Shannon's homer "came on a slider (by Ford that came up. Some of Whitey's breaking stuff was coming up — not all."

"I knew Shannon's ball was a homer when it was hit," moaned Ford.

The black-haired, crew-cut Shannon was besieged by reporters.

"That wasn't the longest ball I ever hit," he said. "I hit one longer than that in Pittsburgh, and you should have seen the one I hit in Dublin, Ga. — not Ireland. I really shillelagged it!"

Curly Flood, the little center fielder, put the Cardinals ahead in the sixth with a triple off the wall in left.

"Flood, who weighs about 157 pounds, said he thought he hit it hard enough for a homer.

"But that's the way it is with a little fellow," he smiled. "I gave it all I had, but it wasn't enough."

A Shattering Love Experience

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Love was a shattering experience for 14-year-old William Blumer Wednesday night.

The youth knocked out a plate glass window and triggered a burglar alarm in a near downtown drugstore.

Police arrived, and the youth explained he was only attempting to escape from his 13-year-old girl friend.

"I jumped back and struck the window when she tried to kiss me," the embarrassed boy said.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV—Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television, which often seems to be running in a rut, certainly moved out of the beaten track Wednesday.

By adroit dial-twisting, the viewer had on tap the opening of the baseball World Series; the Beatles, a new feature-length motion picture and a real life story about a pauper who changed the law.

NBC had its color cameras on the ball game, from the opening pitch to the dash for the dugouts at the end. Baseball, even a World Series, is a pretty slow game for the non-sports fan to watch.

As for ABC's "Shindig" Wednesday night, which had the Beatles and a curious assortment of long-haired and strangely dressed young men and women, it was a fascinating puzzling spectacle.

The show was taped in England and the squeals of little British girls in the audience sounded just like the squeals in Ed Sullivan's audience under similar circumstances.

"CBS Reports" undertook Wednesday night to translate into pictures and sound a report of the fight by a man described by Martin Agronsky as "a born loser" and ex-convict and drifter who succeeded in getting a ruling from the United States Supreme Court giving every accused man, including penniless persons, the right to legal counsel.

Material was originally gathered by Anthony Lewis for his book, "Gideon's Trumpet," and told the story in the words of the principal, Clarence Earl Gideon, and many others connected with the case.

Gideon, a small, defeated-looking man, was accused of (Pepitone). PB — Howard 2. U — Secory (N) plate, McKinley (A) first base, Burkhart (N) second base, Soar (A) third base, V. Smith (N) left field, Smith (A) right field. T—2:42. A—30,805.

stealing wine, beer and money from a bar. He was denied counsel and had no funds to hire a lawyer. He was convicted after attempting to defend himself.

In prison he made repeated appeals, and one finally reached the highest court which agreed to hear the case and assigned an eminent Washington attorney the reversal of his conviction and a new legal precedent.

"See How They Run," NBC's two-hour movie made for TV, probably would have been better paced if it had not run quite so long. But it was a better than

Sizing Up Election in the Far West

EDITOR'S NOTE — A strange medley — a political cacophony — is rising in the West as the nation sweeps into the final weeks of the presidential election campaign. Here is what Associated Press reporters find is being said.

By ROSE WOOD
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — From the sparse settlements of the badlands, from the valley towns of the Rockies, from the teeming cities of the Pacific slope, a strange medley is rising in the West.

It is a political cacophony made up of three themes:

1. Earnest support of Lyndon B. Johnson. The comment of Mrs. Albert Becco, part-time hospital employee at Pueblo, Colo., is typical: "I like Johnson because he says he loves everyone. I mean I think he's interested in all the people."

2. Dedicated backing for Barry Goldwater. Example: Mrs. Gene A. Williams, housewife, of Olympia, Wash., who said she was a Democrat for some years: "I'm going to vote for Goldwater because I think he would be more responsible with my money."

3. The plague-on-both-houses theme. E. D. Hoyde, a state highway engineer from San Francisco, said: "We've got two lousy candidates."

An unusual aspect of this presidential contest is the apparent strength of this third school of thought, composed of people who either won't vote or, if they do, will vote against somebody rather than for somebody.

There seems to be considerable yearning for another choice for some unidentified man who isn't there. This yearning was put into words by Sharon Atzeni, a parking lot attendant in Tucson, Ariz.

"I don't think Johnson is a very good President. I think Goldwater would be worse. I'd sure like to have more of a choice."

These quotes, and many others, were gathered by Associated Press reporters as they interviewed people at random in 13 states — New Mexico, Arizona, California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada, Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Colorado, Idaho, Alaska, Hawaii.

These states represent 95 electoral votes out of a total of 538. It is largely from the West, plus the Midwest and South that Goldwater has been hoping to put together the required victory total of 270.

The New York Times, after a nationwide survey, says that as of now Goldwater is generally considered certain to carry only two states, Mississippi and Alabama, with eight others appearing to favor him.

In California, with its weighty total of 40 electoral votes, Goldwater is considered "dead," the Times says.

A voice long powerful in California Republican circles was raised for Goldwater last Sunday, however, when the Los Angeles Times came out for him. California's biggest newspaper laid great stress on GOP principles which, it said, have best served individual liberty and free enterprise.

In the stretch drive to the Nov. 3 election, Goldwater strategists are counting heavily on two factors: (1) Dedicated zeal by his campaign workers, the kind of people who put him across at the San Francisco convention, and (2) Possible over-confidence on the part of the Democrats.

A variety of issues figure differently in various parts of the vast West. Viet Nam is of concern in Hawaii, less so in New Mexico. Civil rights, and the extent of the possible white backlash, are talking points in metropolitan Los Angeles and San Francisco.

A Yakima, Wash., housewife said that should Goldwater win she would live in fear that he might push the atomic button.

An Albuquerque, N.M., woman, with some in the military service, said there was nothing to fear from the GOP candidate.

The Denver Post reported Sept. 26 that a Colorado poll made for the paper by a private survey organization showed 68 per cent favored Johnson, 28 per cent Goldwater and 6 per cent were undecided.

An undecided voter is John Devore, Denver insurance broker. He told a newsman that he is "a good Republican" who is "hoping Goldwater can convince me by election time that I should vote for him."

Devore added: "I just could not vote for Johnson. I don't believe in the give-away philosophy of the Democratic party."

Here are some more sample comments in the big electoral argument:

Mrs. Richard Beckman, wife of a Morland, Wyo., automobile parts salesman: "One candidate is always changing his mind and the other is politically unethical — so what choice do we have?"

In Sausalito, Calif., boat repairman Frederick Koelner said: "I am not voting for president this year. I won't vote for Goldwater and I can't vote for Johnson."

In Carson City, Nev., the nation's smallest state capital, insurance adjuster J. P. Harrington said: "I'll pass this one. I can't vote for either of them."

A Glasgow, Mont., businessman said: "Goldwater is the most misquoted and misrepresented man to ever run for president."

Mrs. Catherine Erwin of Phoenix, Ariz., a registered nurse whose husband is an engineer at an electronics plant: "We really don't care for either but we'll have to take Johnson because of Goldwater's extremism."

In Alaska, James McKeown, a Juneau insurance agent, said he plans to vote for Johnson because: "I'm more liberal than conservative, and I think Johnson has got more good legislation through Congress than any President in recent years."

Paul Hanson, a Ketchikan, Alaska businessman, said: "I'm scared of Goldwater. I don't like his background. Johnson is too emotional but he is the lesser of two evils."

A Yakima, Wash., housewife, Mrs. May Meyer: "The Republican National Convention and Goldwater's published statements have made a Democrat out of this Republican."

He entered the hospital Sept. 28 for removal of a chest tumor. Complications forced a second operation to repair lung tissue.

Asked by newsmen if the tumor was malignant, he replied: "I guess not."

Wayne, 57, said he plans to take it easy at his home in Encino and "watch the World Series."

BEDFORD, England (AP) — Britain's minister of agriculture is campaigning for re-election to the House of Commons from a hospital bed, but he's got a Churchill to help him.

Conservative Christopher Soames fell from a horse this summer and broke his pelvis. He's still in the Royal Orthopedic Hospital near London.

In this market town today, Soames wife, Mary, took to the stump.

Mrs. Soames is the daughter of Sir Winston Churchill.

FRANK FURT, Germany (AP) — Novelist Melchior Wankowicz, an American citizen, is under detention in his native Poland, accused of "publishing slanderous materials abroad," says Radio Free Europe.

The report said Wankowicz was detained by officials two days after he had participated in a meeting last March of Warsaw authors that discussed relations between Poland's Communist government and Polish writers. The writers signed a statement accusing authorities of censorship.

Wankowicz, whose novels include "Monte Casino," a best seller, came to the United States and took American citizenship after World War II. He returned to Poland in 1957 to retire.

Printing Law Change to Be Submitted

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. Robert Harvey of Swifton told an Arkansas Legislative Council committee today that his group will offer legislation to change the state printing laws in the 1965 session.

"I hope you are as quiet after we draw up this bill as you have been today," Rep. Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County told a half dozen printers who appeared for a committee discussion on changing printing laws. "I will have to see the bill before I can promise that," said Marian Smith of Arkansas Printing and Lithographing Co.

A committee of printers was asked to meet with a council committee to set up recommendations for changing the laws.

The Committee on State and Local Governments discussed objections to the method by which $2 million annually in state printing business is handled.

Later today, the same committee was to discuss proposed changes in powers of county judges—especially limiting them to either administrative or judicial functions.

The council undertook the study of printing laws after the legislative auditor proposed five changes 18 months ago. The auditor suggested that the law be changed so that the letterpress process can be allowed in contracts.

He also suggested that the contracts be grouped and let at different times instead of in one batch, that price figures be made easier to understand, and that some contracts be on a one-year instead of a two-year basis.

R.E. McKillip, sales manager for Multigraph, said the state is not recognizing the steady progress of printing equipment by using the new offset duplicating process. He said the process should be allowed on state contracts.

Secretary of State Kelly Bryant, who is responsible for letting the printing contracts, said he would have a plan at a later date.

Death Not Result of Playing Football

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Dr. Richard E. Johnson, Boone County coroner and a specialist in pathology, reported the medical evidence indicates the death of 17-year-old Thomas Joseph Wilson of Milan, Mo., was not connected with his football playing.

Young Wilson played in a game for Milan High School Friday night. He collapsed in Milan Monday after complaining of a headache and died at the University of Missouri Medical Center in Columbia Monday night.

Dr. Johnson said the boy's parents would not permit an autopsy, but the best clinical evidence indicated he died of a spontaneous brain hemorrhage which was not the result of an injury. Dr. Johnson said there was no evidence death resulted from anything but natural causes.

Samoset was the first Indian to visit the Plymouth Colony.

Rockefeller Bull Prize of Show

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Winthrop Rockefeller's Winrock Prince Domino won the two-year-old bull prize in the here-ford show at the Arkansas Livestock Show today.

Rockefeller, the Republican nominee for governor, bought the bull along with a spread at Sulphur, Okla., from former Oklahoma Gov. Roy Turner last year.

Rockefeller and his wife were present when Winrock Prince Domino was draped with the winner's blanket of roses.

Plans to Keep Contact With the People

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican gubernatorial candidate Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday night that when he is elected he will continue to seek contact with the people to see what they're interested in.

"I haven't been stumping all over Arkansas just for this campaign," he said in a televised speech at Texarkana. "I intend to continue this sampling of public opinion when I am elected."

He closed his telecast with a sign which read: "When Winrock wins, he will be back."

The speech in Texarkana, a day of handshaking in Southwest Arkansas. Tonight, Rockefeller is scheduled to speak in the high school football stadium in Forrest City.

Dr. Reece Phillips, chairman of the Rockefeller campaign in St. Francis County, said the speech would be a major one.

Rockefeller said Tuesday night that he was amused to hear that his opponent, Gov. Orval E. Faubus, had said that Rockefeller didn't know anything about Arkansas highways because he traveled in airplanes.

"I've traveled all over Arkansas in my campaign bus," Rockefeller said. "I have a map with my route traced out on it, and it illustrates better than any words just what condition Arkansas roads are in."

Both candidates have pledged to work for better roads, especially rural roads, if they win the Nov. 3 general election.

Red Meat, Poultry Are Good Buys

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Red meat and poultry for freezer stocking as well as for weekend meals are featured at many groceries across the nation.

Hindquarters of beef are featured at many Eastern shops. On the West Coast, some beef and pork cuts are down as much as 3 to 4 cents a pound at wholesale.

Across the country generally the chief beef features include boneless chuck, ribs and rump roasts, stew meat and corned brisket. Porterhouse and sirloin steaks are other attractions.

Pork highlights include loin roasts, spareribs, sausage, shoulder and Boston butt roasts.

Now Johnson Uses Needle on Goldwater

By JAMES MARLOW

AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — After watching Sen. Barry Goldwater let himself be needled into using up a lot of his presidential campaign time defending himself, President Johnson has begun to use the needle technique on the Arizona.

Democrats and Republicans (before Goldwater became the party candidate) accused the senator of being impulsive and trigger-happy. Goldwater has worked hard at trying to erase such an image of him from the public mind.

Last Sept. 22, the New York Times and Washington Post both said as a fact that Goldwater believes his reputation for impulsiveness is his greatest barrier to the White House.

And in his first television broadcast of the campaign he said: "You may have heard it said that I am impulsive — imprudent — that I am trigger-happy. A deliberate campaign has been and is being waged to create such an image."

Again and again in this campaign, in speech after speech, he has assured his listeners that he is neither impulsive nor reckless and that he has only one goal in mind: Peace.

He protested that he is not a "warmonger" but a "peace-monger."

But members of Johnson's administration — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara — have called the senator "irresponsible." And Johnson increasingly has sought to keep Goldwater similarly irritated.

In the past few weeks he has been hammering on the theme that the voters must not turn the nation over to "extreme and mentioning Goldwater, said the Republican party had a "new and frightening voice."

It's a good guess that Goldwater, since Johnson is sensitive to criticism, is getting under the President's skin. But, judging from Johnson's reaction in public, the Texan seems determined not to let any irritation show.

When Goldwater began charging the Johnson administration with being "soft on communism" — Goldwater told reporters he got the idea for this from former Vice President Richard M. Nixon although Nixon disavows it — Johnson told reporters: "The new and frightening voice of the Republican party is merely trying out this charge to see if it works. My advice to him would be to drop it."

As he campaigned in earnest in the Midwest Wednesday Johnson worked the needle technique overtime by referring to various previous Goldwater positions that the senator has sought to get away from.

For instance, on Social Security. Before he lost the New Hampshire primary last March Goldwater had talked of putting Social Security on a voluntary basis. It got a bad reaction and was a major goof.

Ever since, Goldwater has been insisting he wants to make Social Security stronger. Wednesday, Johnson chose to ignore what Goldwater is saying now and referred to what he had said before the primary without mentioning him by name.

The President said there are those in the land whose policies would bankrupt the Social Security system. He said there are those "who want to make it voluntary."

And, as if to offset Goldwater's insistence now that he wants to make Social Security stronger, Johnson Wednesday said he is going to Ask Congress for improvements in the program.

In 1963 and before that Goldwater was suggesting the United States get out of the United Nations. But now he is saying he wants to strengthen the U.N.

Again Johnson ignored what Goldwater had said more recently and told his listeners suggestions are made for withdrawing from the U.N.

Earlier this year Goldwater talked of breaking off diplomatic relations with Russia if he is elected. But he hasn't said it recently. Wednesday, Johnson referred only to suggestions that have been made for breaking off relations with Russia.

Since this kind of thing can't go on indefinitely without boring audiences with repetition—and the campaign still has 28 days to go — Johnson almost certainly chops and hams.

Veal is another feature this weekend especially in the East and Midwest. One chain quotes boneless shoulder roasts at 69 cents a pound and legs at 49.

At poultry counters, turkeys and broiler-fryers are top attractions. One chain offers turkeys at 35 cents a pound for birds weighing 10 to 20 pounds.

Eggs, are several cents a dozen lower in many stores.

Top vegetable buys include cauliflower, lettuce, green peppers, squash, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, cabbage, carrots, onions and potatoes.

Thinks Johnson May Visit Show

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Reports continued to circulate today that President Johnson would stop at the Arkansas Livestock Exposition here Saturday.

But Leroy M. Lettner, chief of the Secret Service in Little Rock, said the reports were "just rumors."

"I have had no official communication from the White House on such a visit," Lettner ly will have to find new techniques to irritate the senator.

said.

He said he normally would have been informed of such a visit several days in advance.

Johnson is scheduled for an appearance in New Orleans Saturday. He will be in Nashville Friday. The White House said he had nothing on his schedule about a Little Rock stop.

Lettner said his men had made a routine check of the fair grounds and of certain Little Rock buildings in case the President does appear.

First presidential inauguration ever televised was in 1949.

Cites Soviet Activity in Cuba

By CHARLES DUMAS

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller claims there is "far more Soviet activity in Cuba" than people realize and that the Johnson administration is not telling Americans the truth.

The Republican vice presidential candidate told an outdoor rally in Miami Wednesday night that American wheat sent to the Soviet Union apparently was turning up in Cuba in violation of the original sale agreement.

He also cited Cuban radio broadcasts and newspaper reports indicating that the Soviets were installing radio and dry dock facilities on the Caribbean island that could be used by submarines.

The crowd of about 4,000, including many Cuban exiles, cheered noisily when Miller pledged to help restore free government to Cuba if he and Sen. Barry Goldwater were elected. The New York congressman then moved on to Sarasota, continuing his forage for votes in the Deep South.

After addressing airport rallies at Sarasota and Leesburg today, he planned to go into Tennessee and Missouri.

Van Buren, originally called Phillips Landing, was settled in 1818. It was a river shipping center, an important trading post for the Indian Territory, and the jumpoff place for migrations to the west.
